It's possible to share Jesus and make new disciples in all kinds of different contexts. God can help you grow a new Christian community, sometimes called a 'fresh expression of church', virtually anywhere. You can learn how through Greenhouse.

Greenhouse is a Church of England initiative, supported in this diocese, to equip teams of people to design, grow and cultivate fresh expressions of church – helping to make them more sustainable and to multiply.

Built on the learning gathered about fresh expressions in the 15 years since the Mission Shaped Church report, Greenhouse is an exciting journey towards contextual forms of church and discipleship for people in your community.

Not a member of clergy, or don't consider yourself a "pioneer"? Greenhouse is made for you, too.

There's a lot of variety in fresh expressions – they don't always look the same and are often led by lay-people.

“See, I am doing a new thing!
Now it springs up; do you not perceive it?
I am making a way in the wilderness and streams in the wasteland.”

Isaiah 43:19
